February Brings Sag in Building

During the month of February the City Hall issued nine building permits that totaled $29,750.00. Although the same number of permits was issued in February as was issued in January this financial figure dropped from $85,525.00 in January to a little more than $29,000 in February.

One of the buildings that boosted the January total was the permit for the Baptist Student Center which was estimated at $40,000.00. February permits were mostly for inexpensive buildings or additions. There were four resident permits issued. Two permits were issued for additions to residences. The other three permits were for an office, chicken house, and a business building.

Gilt, Cash Prize Boost Livestock Show Interest

The Randall County Junior Livestock Association's annual show is growing bigger and better as its prizes grow. Last year the local Farm Bureau started giving an additional $30 in prize money to the show. This year in addition to the Farm Bureau's $30 the show was given a registered Hampshire gilt by Jess Hicks.

The Farm Bureau money was distributed among the top animal owners of the show. There was $15 given on the top ten calves; $10 given on the top ten hogs, and $5 given on the top five sheep.

Jess Hicks, who lives in Canyon and has a farm between Canyon and Umbarger gave the registered Hampshire gilt. He has been a breeder of these hogs for many years and during that time has been actively associated with the 4-H club boys.

The swine committee of the Randall County Junior Livestock Association set up the distribution rules of the gilt that was given. Each swine exhibitor at the Canyon show had a chance to win the gilt. The lucky number was drawn by Ben Elliot, son of R. B. Elliot of Ralph Switch, to win the 90 pound registered gilt.

Ben will turn back to the Association for redistribution a gilt pig from a litter that he raises from the registered gilt he received free.

To teach every student to reverence God, to honor his word and to feel the importance of obeying his teachings;

To teach every student to reverence home, father and mother, and to have the proper respect for those in authority;

To teach every student that there is no success without effort, that work is honorable, and that he who would be great must be the servant of all;

To uphold at all times those ideals of conduct becoming to young ladies and gentlemen at home, at school, and at all kinds of public gatherings;

To teach every student to uphold the standards and ideals of the school and while representing the school in any activity to conduct himself in such a manner that the right sort of reflection will be cast upon the school, upon his home training, and upon himself.

Rain Saturday Night .38 Inch

Rain fell Saturday night in Canyon, bringing a total of moisture to .38 of an inch.

Roger Gist states that the moisture at his farm southeast of Canyon measured very nearly a half inch.

According to the annual report of W. H. Upchurch on the 1952 rainfall in Randall county, this was a dry year with only three years having less moisture: 1910 with 11.16 inches; 1930 with 11.47 inches; and 1933 with 11.07 inches.

The wettest year came in 1933, with 42.22 inches.

1952 was 8.8 inches below the long time average since the first record was kept 73 years ago.

Canyon had 12.63 inches in 1952; Umbarger, 11.39 inches; Experiment Station, 13.69 inches; Anton Handing, 11.66 inches; Roy N. Byrd, 12.80 inches; Ralph Switch, 9.64 inches. The six gauges, scattered over the county, give a most complete record of the rainfall.

Inspector Sends Report on Mail

Inspector W. R. Gray of the postal department has completed his third trip to Canyon to survey the possibilities of installing city free mail service in Canyon.

Regardless of his recommendation, Mr. Gray states that ti is likely that no change will be made in the service in Canyon within 18 months. It takes the department just about that long to install free mail delivery service when authorized.

Mr. Gray has turned down the request of two towns which were seeking free mail delivery service in this area. There are several towns with even large population, but less postal receipts which have mail delivery service.

According to the map made by Mr. Gray to send to Washington with his recommendations, the service would extend from the public schools to east part of town, excluding the campus of West Texas State.

Mr. Gray states that he was not informed about the continuation of Station 1 on the campus, but presumed that it would be continued.

When shown a copy of the story printed in The Canyon News regarding his visit two weeks ago, he stated that the only error was in the sidewalk part. The department did not require that sidewalks be extended to the pavement, just so there was a hard surfaced walk for the carrier.

According to Gray, The News would be required to pay 1 cent per pound for delivery of the paper weekly; each drop letter would require 3 cent postage; and the inclusion of street number or postoffice box would be required on each local paper or letter mailed.

It would cost the government about $15,000 per year to install the service, with added revenue of only about $2,000. This would mean a net loss of about $13,000 to maintain the service.

Postmaster Guy Harp states that a survey had been made of the local postoffice to provide additional boxes. The department first turned down the proposal of new boxes because of scarcity of materials. Now that additional boxes may be secured, he does not know which way the department will turn. One of two things must be done, states Mr. Harp—additional boxes or free mail delivery service.

Mr. Gray was advised that the Commissioners Court was contacting the department in Washington, asking that the large room in the basement of the building be finished in order to take care of federal offices now located in the court house. It was contemplated when the building was erected that this room in the basement be finished up for the federal offices.

Mr. Gray's response was: "There are several post offices in my district with vacant rooms, which must have construction work done before they could be used, but the federal government has continued paying rent for their offices rather than complete the post office building. This may be the same situation in Canyon."

No one knows what recommendation Mr. Gray will make as to mail delivery in Canyon, but he stated that more people had requested the service than had objected to its installation.

Cubs, Scouts Give Annual Banquet

More than 160 people were reported present for the annual Blue and Gold Cub Scout Banquet Friday night at the Methodist Church. The celebration this year was in honor of the 43rd year of scouting. Present were Cub Scouts, Scouts, and parents.

Meeting Friday Night Starts '53 Red Cross Drive

"The Red Cross is you" said W. T. McGregor Friday night at a meeting of more than 30 people in the basement of the First Baptist Church. It was a meeting to work out the details for the 1953 Red Cross fund drive which started March 1st and will last through March 15.

"The Red Cross is the greatest organized force in the world," the local chairman said. He went on to explain how it helped victims of floods and other disasters. The Red Cross, he said, makes it possible for every person to help victims of floods and other disastrous misfortunes.

"Less than 15% of the Red Cross budget is spent on executive salaries," McGregor said. Then it was pointed out that other organizations of this size pay about 30% of its budget out in executive salaries. He said many people criticised the Red Cross for its high salaried executives.

This year the local chapter's quota is slightly more than $3,000 and of this amount more than $1,500 remains in the community for local use.

Call Petit Jury For Duty Monday

Among the remaining species remaining were osage orange, cottonwood, sycamore, honey locust, mulberry, and elm.

Mrs. Joyce Birch and son of Reno, Nevada, Mrs. Geo. Bell and children of Walnut Creek, Calif., are visiting their parents and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Buck King and their brother and uncle and family, Mr. and Mrs. Mickey King.

EDITORIAL COMMENTS

A Few Observations As The Days Roll By . . . .

The suicide of Bob LaFollette brings back memories to the Newsman.

It was back in Chautauqua days that we heard the elder Senator Bob LaFollette. He carried with him a specially reinforced trunk full of books, manuscripts and various kinds of documents. As he spoke for more than two hours before the large Chautauqua audience—without the aid of a loud speaker—he referred constantly to this material. He used all of this great mass of source material as he spoke.

With the Senator was his young son, Bob, a lad only about 12 years of age, or 10 years our junior. The boy was alert and never failed to have the right manuscript or book opened at the right place for quick reference by his father. He knew that speech as well as the father. The big crowd was amazed at the wide information which the boy had.

It was no surprise to any of us who heard Senator Bob during those days that his son should be elected to the Senate at the early age of 30 years. There he served until defeated by Senator McCarthy six years ago.

Regardless of your political faith you may say that it was a sad day for Wisconsin when the voters turned down Bob LaFollette and elected McCarthy.

The passing of the Chautauque marked the passage of a great institution.

The great of the nation got out among the people, and found out for themselves how the people lived, and what they thought. The great traveled by slow train; going from town to town. Today their successors step before the mike and talk to millions of people without the least physical efforts, while the great men of yesteryear had to put out great physical efforts in order to reach a comparatively few people.

Time marches on—but those of us who lived in the days before the automobile, airplane, motion picture show, radio, and fast presses of the newspapers and magazines—yes, we were privileged to intimately see and know a lot of folk whom the youth of today are missing because of the improved facilities. Of course we would not bring back those days. But they were the good, old days, nevertheless.

Some of these bright days the people of the Panhandle will wake up cold, and without natural gas.

Some of these days, we shall be paying about three times the price that we are now paying for gas, if we are able to get it at any price then.

Some of these days we shall realize what fools we were back in 1953 when we allowed the big pipe lines to transport our natural gas away to other states, buying the gas at a very low price.

According to the records, Texas natural gas is selling to the pipe lines for about half the price being paid in other states.

It is reported that vast underground storage tanks, especially old mines, are being used to store this natural gas from Texas. When the supply plays out here, the gas will be shipped back to Texas consumers and sold at higher prices than the consumers are now paying.

Senator Grady Hazlewood has a bill in the legislature attempting to correct this situation. The bill is the result of years of study of the question by authorities on the subject. It is stated that while prices may be increased slightly to some communities at the present time, the long range results will be very favorable.

What about free mail service for Canyon?

The question is being kicked around locally for the second time in recent years. When the first survey was made, the people turned down the request. This time there are more people favorable to free delivery than there are against the service.

We use the word "free" with our fingers crossed. The service will cost Uncle Sam about $15,000 to operate, and the revenue will be about $2,000 additional over and above the present revenue. Thus Uncle Sam would be out about $13,000 yearly by the operation.

It seems that many people of Canyon want the service largely because other towns have it. When they move to Canyon from other towns where there is free mail delivery, they marvel, since the postal receipts of Canyon are above the town from which they moved. Furthermore, they cannot get a box at the local postoffice for love or for money. They simply must get their mail through general delivery, which is not satisfactory to those who are accustomed to going to their door after the mail.

In addition to the handicap of the loss to the government in operating the system, is the fact that mail delivery would be made only once per day. This would eliminate the possibilities of getting the mail through on time.

Those who have boxes cannot have free carrier service on days when mail is delivered, then go to the postoffice on holidays. In other words, those who use the service must make a choice between the two services which would be offered—a postoffice box or free mail delivery.

Postmaster Guy Harp states that additional boxes have been requested at various times, which have been turned down by the department.

Inspector W. R. Gray says that Canyon needs either additional boxes or free mail delivery. He has made three trips to Canyon to survey the town, and make maps of the city. When his recommendations go to Washington, if he asks for free delivery service in Canyon, it will be at least 18 months before the service is started.

A lot of things may happen in 18 months.

We shall see what we shall see.

The Democrats will not hold the $100 per plate dinner in Washington, D. C., this year. In years past—for 20 years at least—Democrats have gathered in Washington and put up $100 per plate for a 50 cent dinner. That was a good way to pay off the Democratic debt and keep money in the treasury to fight the next campaign.

Why stop this year?

Simple enough! When Eisenhower was elected by Democratic support, the Republicans took over. The Democrats no longer control federal offices. Officers who still hang on to their Democratic appointments are fearful that should they continue to be affiliated with the party that they might lose their jobs.

At any rate, the Democratic bigwigs are fearful that should such a dinner be held that instead of having hundreds of the loyal group dig up $100 per plate that there might be only a handful show up to pay the overhead and the party would be holding the bag with a larger debt on its hands.

It is sure a shame that such an easy way to raise money has been knocked in the head.

Perhaps the Republicans will now stage such a dinner at $1,000 per plate! Who knows?

Babson is out with another prediction. He says that there will be peace in Korea in 1953, but we shall still keep a big army in the East and the West for fear that the Reds might become over enthusiastic and decide to take over the world.

Babson wants to sell his service to The Canyon News.

His predictions are a gillion per cent correct, so Babson modestly admits. He is the only man in America who foresaw the coming crash of the late '20s, so he says.

As a matter of record we paid the old boy some $15 per month for about two years trying to decipher his predictions. They were always correct—so he says. For instance, his stock phrase is that if you had read his prediction of such and such a date on such and such an event that you would have realized that his predictions were so and so. If you should do as he said and looked back, you might find such a prediction cloaked in such ambiguous words that no Philadelphia lawyer could tell what he was talking about.

Ignorance is bliss. We shall remain in our ignorance.

Photographers urged Senator Lodge to shake hands with the Red envoy in New York at the opening of the United Nations conflab. The Senator refused!

What good would have been accomplished? None whatsoever.

We read the other day that you could not wade in a hog pen without getting your shoes messed up. You cannot shake hands with a Red in public without being charged with tolerance toward the Reds.

We wish that we had the words to express our feelings about the British and her Laborites who stood in parliament and cheered the small gift which the Reds sent to England to improve storm and flood conditions.

This little token gift is a drop in the bucket as compared with the billions of dollars which America has poured into England, and continues to pour in order to satisfy the longing desire of the British for an easy life under the Laborites.

Sure enough, the heart of America went out to the unfortunate folks who were victims of the storm, and the people responded to the call for aid to these folks.

But here we see the picture of Churchill, the poor old fool, thanking the Reds for their support.

The Reds would invade England and take over that unfortunate island on a drop of the hat if Uncle Sam withdrew our troops and our billions of dollars from the British.

The British have recognized Red China, and continue shipping the Reds war materials which are used to kill American boys in Korea.

No, we cannot leave England to the mercy of the Reds, but we are making it very plain that we do not appreciate the lack of cooperation which has been given us by the British.

Churchill came to visit President Eisenhower, and went home empty handed. Dulles told the British, French and Italians to get the lead out of their pants and raise an army or all support of American dollars would cease.

The French and British squaked to high heaven, but have started action which may get them an army.

What a mess we are in, both in the West and the East.

Naturally both Amarillo and Lubbock hope to win in the population race. It would be quite a feather in the hat of either Amarillo or Lubbock to have the larger number of folks living within the area than the other has. While the newspapers of both towns are anxious to eventually win out, we see no particular point in all of the stuff being published by both towns regarding utility connections; school census and the like. This will not increase population, and no one will know the correct answer of population until Uncle Sam counts noses.

Regardless of Chamber of Commerce claims, folks alone count in this census business; and Lubbock was ahead in 1950.

GOP Congressmen are fearful that unless they cut income taxes radically this year that they will be unable to control Congress in the election next year. They argue that they are pledged for a tax reduction.

We doubt very much that any tax reduction bill will be possible until Congress is willing to cut federal spending. Continually going in the red will not get the job done.

President Eisenhower has a tough job before him in handling a bad situation.

President Eisenhower says that he will meet Stalin half way around the world if Stalin will promise in advance to do something about stopping the Korean war.

The terms will not be met. Stalin has no intention of stopping the war so long as the Chinese, not Russians, are fighting the Americans in Korea.

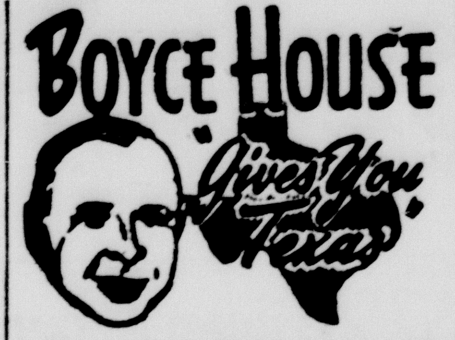
Advertising must be a good thing; so many growing businesses are profiting from it.



Texas has had many picturesque outlaws.

Belle Starr, known as the "Bandit Queen," who flourished after the Civil War, lived in Dallas. She was reputed to be the head of a band of horse-thieves and robbers. She would dash through the streets of Dallas on her horse, scattering pedestrians, enter a saloon and, after a drink, try her luck at roulette or poker. She moved to what is now Oklahoma was shot to death from ambush.

Most famous of Lone Star State outlaws was Sam Bass, the "Robin Hood of Texas." He and his band held up a Union Pacific train in Nebraska after a cattle drive to Deadwood and obtained $60,000 in gold.

Back in Texas, Sam spent the money freely. He and his men held up four trains within two months in a radius of 25 miles of Dallas. He planned a final coup—the holdup of the bank at Round Rock and then fleeing to Mexico; but a member of his gang tipped off the Texas Rangers and there was a gun battle in which an officer and one of Bass' men were killed. Sam was mortally wounded.

The betrayer lived in fear of his life and died in great agony from poison. Bass' memory is preserved by legends and a song.

In modern times, the most notorious among those who defied the law were Clyde Barrow and his "cigar-smoking moll." Many killings were credited to Barrow before they met death themselves in a burst of gunfire along a country road.

A man who bore the religious-sounding name of John Wesley Hardin killed more men than any other sixgun expert in Texas' history. Deceptively boyish-looking, Wes Hardin was not recognized by "Wild Bill" Hickok, the Kansas cattle town marshal, and Hardin got the drop on him by use of the "border roll." Hickok laughed it off and they had a drink together.

Hardin was sentenced to prison for murder in Texas, studied law and, upon regaining his freedom, went to El Paso. There he was shot to death by John Selman who, not long after was killed by George Scarborough.

So the People May Know

LAWS OF THE STATE OF TEXAS provide that many county, city, and other officials must publish in the newspapers certain information about their finances and operations.

The lawmakers passed these rules because of their belief in the fundamental principles of democracy that a people can properly govern themselves only when they are adequately informed.

There have been violations of these publication laws.

These have been violations of omission: That is, some officials have neglected to publish information as required by state law.

THE PEOPLE ARE ENTITLED TO KNOW what information their local officials are required to publish.

This newspaper, therefore, will print a series of articles, prepared by The Texas Press Association — presenting in plain language pertinent facts in regard to the publication laws.

Are you, as a citizen, getting through your newspaper all of the information that law says you should have — concerning the operation of your local government?

Find out by following this series of articles in your newspaper, The Canyon News.

Highlights and Sidelights FROM Your State CAPITOL

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association

Abolishing gasoline tax refunds would provide for a perpetual farm-to-market highway fund and give $4 million a year more for schools.

Chairman E. H. Thornton, Jr., of the Texas Highway Commission made that assertion as he prepared an analysis of the state's road situation for presentation to the Legislature.

Gasoline tax refunds go to those using the fuel for non-highway purposes. Last year refunds amounted to $15,367,000 of $120,244,000 collected. Most of the refunds go to farmers who use gasoline for farm vehicles and machines.

Thornton is asking for an additional $100 million per year to bring Texas highways up to the highest standard and maintain them for the next 10 years.

The highway commission has a new member, former Senator Marshall Formby of Hereford, who succeeds Fred Wemple of Midland. The third member is R. J. Potts of Harlingen.

---

The highway problem is a foremost one in the Legislature, and many proposals have been made to solve it. Governor Allan Shivers has asked the Legislature to add at least one cent a gallon to the gasoline tax to furnish additional money.

One cent per gallon would bring the state $25 million per year.

Another plan was put forward by Representative Charles Murphy of Houston, sponsor of a constitutional amendment requiring all highway user taxes to go for road building, maintenance, and policing.

Should the amendment be passed by the Legislature and ratified by the voters, the schools would lose their share of the gasoline tax revenue. They now get one-fourth of it.

Both Houses of the Legislature struggled with the highly controversial auto inspection law — the one that requires you to have that little yellow sticker on the windshield of your car.

Senator Carlos Ashley of Llano typified opponents of the law who want it repealed. Ashley thinks the law is discriminatory in that it works a hardship on lower income bracket people who cannot afford extensive repairs on their cars.

Accidents, Ashley contends, are caused, not by defective automobiles primarily, but by drunk drivers and speeders.

The senator argued that poor people in his native hill country make a living hauling cedar posts in slow-moving trucks that wouldn't pass inspection in a junk yard.

Why should they have to pass a windshield wiper inspection when they don't have windshields?" Ashley wanted to know.

Senator John Bell of Cuero, on the other hand, worked to retain the bill and modify it so that the safety sticker would not be a requisite to purchase of an automobile license.

Bell also would specify what particular parts of the car would have to be examined to get the inspection tag. Bell and others believe that the law, if retained, will cut down on highway deaths.

The chances that horse racing will return to Texas seem slight.

Representative Ed Sheridan of San Antonio introduced a bill to legalize pari-mutuel betting, but when the time came for a committee hearing on the measure, Sheridan said he was willing to postpone the whole thing.

Stout opposition to the bill had been gathering, and Sheridan said he wanted to "let it cool." Observers here doubted it would cool enough to let the bill pass.

Quick action was needed, Governor said, to provide for 900 tuberculosis patients who are now being treated at Weaver H. Baker Hospital at Mission.

The Air Force will take over the hospital on July 1.

Bills to provide for the patients passed the Senate, but moved slowly in the House.

What regulation should there be about home rule cities annexing adjacent areas?

In the legislative process is a bill by Senator Johnnie B. Rogers of Austin to restrict annexation. Such a law is needed, say its supporters, to prevent cities from taking in farms, pastures, and dairy lands.

Opponents of the bill from Houston and other cities say it would practically stop annexation and force cities to retain their present boundaries.

The Senate made up its mind about the five-day banking bill — and killed it. The bill, which had the support of some big city banks, would have permitted the financial institutions to operate on a five-day week basis.

Opponents were banks in smaller cities, where the rural people come to do their banking and shopping mostly on Saturdays.

Senators considered the question of whether we should have a preferential presidential primary in Texas — whether we should select delegates to national nominating conventions by vote of the people rather than at state party conventions.

We should, said Senator Jimmy Phillips of Angleton, because "I have never seen anything go wrong with a secret election and a free ballot."

We should not, argued former Senator Joe Hill, because if delegates are elected only the very rich or the stooges of some pressure group could ever go to a convention.

Senator George Moffett of Chillicothe proposed a constitutional amendment to get money to build needed state office buildings from a two-cent property tax now going into a Confederate pension fund.

The fund now has a surplus of $5 million over what is needed to pay the pensions of two veterans and 500 widows of Confederates.

In the Senate is a bill, already passed by the House, that is intended to give stronger control over Communists. The bill would make it easier for officers to enter and search the homes of persons suspected of being subversive.

Opponents of the bill contended that it was a threat to civil rights.

The Senate and House met jointly to hear Captain Eddie Rickenbacker, ace of World War I, condemn the Roosevelt-Truman administration for a "weak and vacillating foreign and domestic policy."

This is how Rickenbacker would stop the Korean war: blockade the Chinese coast, cut the railroad between Manchuria and Indo-China, and use atom bombs behind the Korean front lines.

Col. Homer Garrison, Jr., director of the Department of Public Safety, says that in 1951 there were 1,062 automobile accidents in Texas caused by livestock roaming the highways. As a consequence, 12 persons were killed and 129 injured.

---

Morris Frank, Houston Chronicle sports columnist, who visited the capitol recently, advised the Legislators that he was the "only guy who ever went to Washington and returned empty-handed."

---

And his wife lost her purse while he was addressing the Senate.

---

CLOAKROOM COMMENT: "Lobbyists are people who individually can do nothing, but collectively can agree that nothing can be done."

WASHINGTON AND
"SMALL BUSINESS"
By C. WILSON HARDER

A rapid survey reveals nation's independent businessmen applaud the administration's rapid first step scrapping controls.

But no one takes the stand that with the end of controls, it is all over but the shouting.

* * *

The White House announces return to "free enterprise" and Agriculture Secretary, Ezra Benson, announces return to law of supply and demand on farm prices.

C. W. Harder

But the big question is this: What is the current interpretation in administration circles of those terms?

Free enterprise is often destroyed by methods other than government edict.

Sometimes freedom of enterprise is held to be unrestricted license to build monopoly control of business.

Under Communism or Nazism monopoly business is a definite government policy. In other nations, such as France and Britain, when not in the clutch of a Socialistic regime, official governmental policy has been neither pro or anti-monopoly. The result has been that unchecked monopoly has kept Europe in one economic crisis after another, alleviated only by war, or gifts of U. S. billions.

The U. S. has long standing anti-trust laws prohibiting the formation of monopolies. But because of lax enforcement of anti-trust laws, the U. S. teeters on the brink of complete monopoly control by default.

This trend has been fought vigorously by legislators of both parties, especially members of the Senate and House Small Business Committees.

U.S. Monopoly made it's greatest strides during World War II. While fighting a two front war, safeguards were breeched.

Peace did not change the trend.

Then Korea brought the army of monopoly lobbyists swarming back to Washington. With World War II experience, they knew how to better rig controls to aid monopoly business. The result; when shortage of merchandise occurred, the independent retailer was hit first. Independent manufacturers secured less than 25% of the new defense contracts.

* * *

Here's the $64 question: can the present administration really re-establish freedom of enterprise, or only strengthen the freedom of license.

Some write that General Motors not only gets the major share of government contracts, but is also a part of the Dupont empire currently facing an anti-trust suit in Federal Courts. They wonder about appointments of General Motors executives to top governmental posts.

* * *

But majority of businessmen have attitude of watchful waiting, holding no one should be hanged before the trial.

And probably never before in American history has government been under such close observance by organized independent business as now.

There is a watching of straws in the wind. An example:

With all major oil companies boosting prices together many write the time has come to decide on the legality of oil operations under anti-trust laws.

SALE OF ARMOR

Learning that a company in this country was planning to sell to civilians an armored vest "similar to, but not identical with" the one used by front-line Marines and soldiers, the Government is considering legal moves to block, at least temporarily, such sales of plastic body armor. The company announced its armor was designed for use by hunters, bank guards and policemen. Government officials point out, however, that the armor could be used by bank robbers and other law breakers, as well.

Public Schools Were Subject of Rotary Luncheon

Joe Gibson, superintendent of the Canyon public schools, spoke Tuesday at the Canyon Rotary program. He was presented by Frank Morgan.

Raymond Raillard was introduced as a new member of the club by Jack Haley.

Before the program, Jack Walker auctioned pictures taken of the Rotary-Lions in the recent basketball game with the college faculty. The pictures brought an average of $5.00 each which money was added to the March of Dimes-Crippled Children's fund.

Mrs. Hope Rusk presented 50 girls of the 7th and 8th grades of the public schools in a series of songs.

Mr. Gibson urged parents and friends to visit the public schools during this week. He quoted from the Governor's proclamation as to the plan for public education and the results of the system.

Features of public education as stressed by Mr. Gibson was the habit of honesty and industry; teaching the child to use good English and correct mathematics; teaching citizenship; assistance in the selection of a life's work; to be reverent to God and to parents; and above all — success is not achieved without hard work.

Visitors were: Bill and Charles SoRelle, Vern Hesfer, L. W. Ledbetter, John McCarty, Paul Foster, Van H. Allm, all of Amarillo; Leo Forrest, Earl Hendricks, D. C. McWhorter, all of Hereford.

The West Texas Ensemble under the direction of Lewis Stoelzing played during the luncheon period.

NEWS LETTER

From Congressman WALTER ROGERS of the 18th Congressional District

No Major Break Between Eisenhower and Congress

Despite many predictions to the contrary, I do not look for any major break between the executive and the legislative branches of the government.

It is true that there will be many differences in the future, as there have been several already. Those heretofore occurring have been settled without disturbing repercussions.

Those occurring in the future can and should be settled in the same manner. There is little doubt that President Eisenhower does not want a running fight with either the House or the Senate. The same is true with a majority of both the Houses of Congress.

The President knows that the Congress will back him all the way in maintaining the defense of this country and in sound economy measures. This is especially true of the Southern bloc. This bloc has not changed its principles in the slightest degree.

It makes little difference to the members from the South who or what party might be in control, as this bloc intends to continue in the future, as it has in the past, to vote on the issues as they are presented and to base those votes on sound and basic principles dedicated to the best interests of this nation.

President Eisenhower knows this as well as any man who ever served as President.

Restoration of the Value of Dollar

Much has been said and written about restoring the value of the dollar. All of this talk sounds good until you begin to analyze the problems involved.

Do not expect a speedy increase in the value of the dollar. Such action by any administration under the present circumstances could well prove economically disastrous.

The major task at the present time is to stabilize the present value of the dollar and prevent it from sinking lower. When this is done, action can then be begun for a gradual upward trend in its value. This upward trend must consume several years.

An immediate increase of 30 to 40 per cent in the value of money would mean bankruptcy to many small business concerns, municipalities, and individuals, to say nothing of the increase in the already back-breaking burden of the national debt. The debts that are presently owed by business concerns, municipalities,, individuals and the Federal Government are fixed amounts that were incurred in dollars of approximately the same value as at present.

A drastic and immediate increase in the value of the dollar would simply mean a corresponding increase in outstanding indebtedness percentage-wise. It would also mean a corresponding decline in the value of goods and of course wages.

The President has placed in his Cabinet a number of outstanding business men who have full knowledge and understanding of the problems involved, and I do not think that they are going to take any steps that could result in a major recession and a possible depression.

Statehood for Hawaii

The Interior and Insular Affairs Subcommittee on Territories and Insular Possessions, of which I am a member, is presently studying the Hawaii statehood bill. This will be a hot issue in this Congress.

Alaska and Puerto Rico were both disturbed because Hawaii was singled out for statehood in the President's State of The Union message. The hearings on this bill are most interesting and will produce many interesting facts, which I will try to give you from time to time.

Statistics as of July 1, 1948, reflect Hawaii's population at 540,500, of which 10,000 are Hawaiian, 70,000 part Hawaiian, 177,000 Caucasian, 144,000 Japanese, 28,000 Chinese, 18,000 Filipino, 9,000 Puerto Rican, 5,000 Korean, and 1,500 others.

Alaska's population at that date was 100,000, approximately evenly divided between Caucasians, on the one hand, and Eskimos, Aleuts and Indians, on the other hand.

Puerto Rico had 2,113,053, 76.5% being Caucasians and 23.5% being Negro. Space will not permit me to include other interesting facts concerning businesses, health conditions, land uses, labor matters, taxation, and other subjects in this letter.

Receptions in Washington

Washington was a city of receptions during the past several days for the President and his opponent whom he defeated in the November election, Governor Adlai Stevenson.

There were several receptions for Governor Stevenson during his short stay in Washington, the highlight of his visit being of course his meeting and conference with the President.

The Congressional Club gave a reception on Monday night, Feb. 16, honoring the President and Mrs. Eisenhower. This club is made up of wives of present and former members of Congress who desire to join.

The reception was a formal invitation affair. The invitations were in great demand and many government officials did not get to attend because of the space limitations in the Club. The President and Mrs. Eisenhower were joined in the receiving line by officials of the Club and their husbands.

Members of the Cabinet led the way through the receiving line. The President looked hale and hearty and had a good West Texas type handshake in the early stages of the proceedings. He was dressed in a black business suit with a black tie and his excellent smile. Mrs. Eisenhower, as usual, was most gracious and looked very beautiful.

I am sorry that I cannot tell you what she was wearing, but I have been in trouble half of my life for not noticing the color or the cut of some dress. Most of you men know what I am talking about. At the next reception I am going to enlist the aid of Mrs. Rogers and some of the other good ladies in the Club to help write this newsletter and tell the women's side of the story.

Panhandle Mink

Frank (One Bull) Carter, of Pampa, sent me the hide of a white-faced champion from the Amarillo Show. I have this displayed in my office and refer to it as a Texas Panhandle mink hide. The truth is it would make a lot better looking coat than most minks I have seen. It is certainly attracting a lot of attention in the Capital.

LIPSTICK LOGIC

BY LOUISE ALLEN

Reading, both for fact and for fun, has always had high priority in our household. Lots of folks think this old-fashioned, if not downright backward. What with the new "audio-visuals" they simply can't see going to the trouble of holding up a book or newspaper and trying to make printed words say something.

Well, we wouldn't get into a debate on the subject, but if we did, we might argue that printed words are kind of like a pet pup! They're there when you want them. They're silent, but companionable. They won't wag their tails or chase a stick. But if the telephone rings or someone comes calling, they'll wait until you're ready to come back to them. At bedtime, they're especially cozy. They lie around looking relaxed until you get all set to read yourself to sleep. Then when you begin to drowse, they slide gently off the bed and lie quietly until morning.

In the light of their old-fashioned appeal, however, we do sometimes wonder at the inroads the mechanical craze has made into business offices, of magazines especially. In the old days, when your magazine subscription ran out, you'd get a notice for renewal. Now, as a subscriber, you become a card record with a bunch of enigmatic holes punched in it. If that were all, it wouldn't be serious. But modern publishers put you on a "regular mailing list" that has little if any connection with your date of renewal. Several times a year they send you a copy of this tortuously punched card. With the key to the mystery tightly locked up in home office, you're supposed to figure out if and when you owe money.

Yes, we do love reading. But in the light of both public opinion and this hieroglyphic bookkeeping, we sometimes wonder if it's interest or principle that keeps us at it.

$810 Collected From Charity Tilt

Last week's basketball game between West Texas State College's faculty and the Lions-Rotary clubs increased the March of Dimes total to $1,624.99. The returns from the cans were picked up and counted last week. These were the cans that were placed about in various business firms and they yielded a total of $467.07.

The drive started with $5.00 that the organization had left over from last year. Schools in the vicinity gave $200.46 into the fund campaign and the Home Demonstration clubs came through with $104.65.

At least two business firms showed special interest in giving a considerable portion of their profits to the drive this year. The Breakfast Club Cafe and Don's Cafe both gave coffee money to the fund.

Last week's ball game brought a total of $810.70. Various costs connected with promoting the tilt amounted to $30. This left $780.70 of which half went to the March of Dimes and half to the Crippled Children's fund.

The game was still helping the March of Dimes this week. Pictures made of the players in action were auctioned off at the Rotary and Lions clubs this week. Picture sales at the Rotary Club Tuesday amounted to $40.50 which will be added to the fund along with the money from the Lions Club today.

COINS TESTED

In accordance with a practice which was begun in the days of Alexander Hamilton, dimes, quarters and half dollars went "on trial" before a 13-man commission recently to see if they met the legal requirements of weight, measurement and metallic content. They all passed the test.

LIVESTOCK PRICES

The Bureau of Agricultural Economics has predicted that a moderate price increase is in prospect for most meat animals during the next few months, with largest gains expected for hogs because of smaller supplies.

The library basement is the college film room and a number of films will be used in the program. Miss Darthula Walker is in charge of the program.

Miss Walker will use the films to illustrate the subject of vacation spots. Among the film that will be seen is about the Grand Canyon and Carlsbad Caverns. The films were supplied from various sources with one coming from the Santa Fe Railroad Company.

Maynard-Crouch Nuptial Vows Read In Central Church of Christ Recently

MR. AND MRS. LEON CROUCH

An altar centered with an arrangement of white gladioli flanked by large floor standards of white gladioli with a complementary background of seven branched candelabra and jade palm formed the decorative setting for the recent marriage of Peggy Maynard to Leon Crouch.

Joe F. Watson, minister of the Central Church of Christ, read the double ring service in the sanctuary of the recently completed church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Maynard. Mr. Crouch is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Crouch of Dallas.

Mrs. H. R. Fulton, Jr., sang "O Promise Me" and "I Love You Truly."

The processional and recessional were sung by the Harding College Chorus by wire recording.

Misses Dorothy Brown and Hila Begert, as candle lighters, wore dust rose satin dresses. Misses Wanda Sheets and Carol Duncan, bridesmaids, wore green sea. Rachel Maynard, sister of the bride, as maid of honor, was gowned in aqua blue satin.

All gowns of the attendants were made with fitted bodice, having rolled berthas on boat necklines. The gracefully gathered skirts were floor length. Each carried a nosegay of alternate color and wore a hat matching her dress.

Mac Kyle was best man. Hollis Maynard, Elmer Mickey, Tom Monroe and Joel Peterson acted as usher and groomsmen.

Escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in white bridal satin and lace. She had designed and made her gown which was styled with lace over satin fitted bodice and long pointed over the hand sleeves. Lace panels decorated the full skirt which fell into a chapel train. Her fingertip veil was attached to a bandeau of seed pearls and flowers. She carried a crescent arrangement of white roses showered with garland of white pearls and white satin streamers, tied with love knots.

Mrs. Maynard chose for her daughter's wedding a navy blue dress of silk shantung with navy accessories. Mrs. Crouch, mother of the bridegroom, wore a navy blue linen dress with matching accessories. Both wore corsages of pink roses.

Following the ceremony a reception in the home of the bride's parents honored the bridal party.

The serving table was laid with white linen and centered with the bride's bouquet. Mrs. Raymond Crouch of Dallas presided at the punch bowl and Mrs. Clarence Maynard served the three tiered wedding cake.

For a wedding trip to Corpus Christi, the bride traveled in a blue suit. The couple will reside in Dallas.

Mrs. Crouch is a graduate of Canyon High School, attended West Texas State one year and was a student of Harding College at Searcy, Ark., at the time of the wedding.

Mr. Crouch is a graduate of Sherman High School, Sherman, Texas, and attended West Texas State one year.

WARWICK'S

Just Between You, Me and . . . the Gatepost

(By Lawrence Hunnicutt)

There was an excellent turnout last week for the West Texas State College faculty and Rotary-Lions basketball game. From all reports it was one of the most hilarious affairs staged in this vicinity for some time. The proceeds went for a good cause, the crippled children's camp at Kerrville, and that is probably one of the reasons for such good attendance. There is no doubt that most of the people went because they knew they were going to see one of the most laugh-provoking shows ever put on in the vicinity.

---

Clark Jarnagin, who really boosts the product he handles, was out there. Even in the midst of all the show, Mr. Jarnagin did not forget his special product.

---

Bill Knighton, who has more talent than Marilyn Monroe has curves, was on the floor to delight the fans. Many agreed that the antics of Bill alone were well worth the price of admission. Everybody had fun, even those who put the show on claimed they enjoyed doing it and from all outward indications they were telling the whole truth and nothing but the truth.

---

Another good thing in the vicinity that is growing and rapidly becoming bigger and better is the Randall County Junior Livestock Association's annual shows. Last year the Farm Bureau started giving additional money to the boys who had animals entered. This year Jess Hicks gave a registered Hampshire gilt. The boy who drew the gilt is to raise a litter from it and give one of the litter next year. This will keep the gilt rotating from year to year and increase the number of registered hogs in the 4-H and FFA clubs, the two clubs that make up the Junior Livestock show.

---

Many people got the idea that when cars and radios came in the horse and saddle would soon be forgotten. Not so, the saddle has kept pace with modern times and horses have gone up. Recently a saddle was pictured with a built-in radio. Should be an excellent device for getting the horse operas.

This week our introduction of local citizens features John Preston Taylor of the Taylor-Evans Farm Stores. It was early June, 1951, when Mr. Taylor adopted Canyon as his home and the place he desired to bring his family. He is married and has two girls, Huella 5, and Linda Carol 4.

Mr. Taylor is an active member of the First Baptist Church and also the Lions Club. He is a graduate of Quitaque High School and West Texas State College. He was graduated from WT in '41 and went from here to Floydada to work in the government P. M. A. office there.

After spending nine months in the office there Taylor went to Tulia. He was in Tulia about ten years, most of this time being spent as secretary in the P. M. A. office. In 1950 the Taylor-Evans organization opened its first farm store in Tulia.

---

The business of this organization has proven so successful that there are now three stores; one in Tulia, one in Canyon, and another in Amarillo.

Mr. Taylor enjoys all kinds of sports. This was recently proven when he appeared in the basketball game between the West Texas State College faculty and the Rotary-Lions clubs. Th proceeds of the game went to the crippled children's fund and March of Dimes.

He is also one of WT's biggest boosters. Most of the WT games are broadcast by the Taylor-Evans stores and many of the athletic boys are employed by Mr. Taylor each year. There is no doubt but what he is one of the best boosters of Canyon we have here.

When talking of something that needs assistance you may think of that part of the column known as Chirps of Wisdom. Some think it could stand a boost, others believe it should be tossed out.

It's good to have money and the things that money can buy, but it's good too to check up once in a while and make sure you haven't lost the things money can't buy.

Ideas are seeds from which all progress grows.

You don't know the true value of a friend until you need one.

Book Club Names New Committees

The significant feature of the business meeting of the Woman's Book Club last Wednesday was the naming of committees through which most of the activities for the next administration will be carried out.

Miss Edna Graham, president-elect, has announced that Mrs. Tom Gooch will head the calendar and yearbook committee, and her assistants will be Mrs. Joe Findley, Miss Elva Fronabarger, and Mrs. Charles Harter.

Mrs. S. B. Loudder will head the membership committee, with Mrs. Ray Campbell, Mrs. Clyde McElroy, and Mrs. Nancy McCaslin, assisting.

On the telephone committee will be Mrs. Tom Knighton, chairman, and Mrs. James P. Cornette, Mrs. C. M. Dowlen, and Mrs. A. A. Clark.

The remembrance committee will have Mrs. Ben Beck as chairman, and Mrs. Michael Morris, Mrs. Lee Foster, and Mrs. T. B. McCarter are the other members.

Club publicity will be handled by Mrs. T. V. Reeves.

The study period of the February 28th meeting was in charge of Mrs. L. A. Donnell who gave the members a wider conception of the cotton industry and its significance in the life of the United States, and, Miss Elva Fronabarger who reviewed the problems and accomplishments of the oil industry as it contributes to the economy of Texas and of the nation. Both speakers used many maps and charts and pictures to add to the interest of their talks. Both also emphasized that these great industries had developed to a height of efficiency and size that would have been impossible in a country where the free enterprise system did not prevail.

At the next meeting of the Woman's Book Club, members will express their preferences for subjects of study for the year, 1953-54.

It was announced that Misses Edna Graham and Darthula Walker would represent the club at the Seventh Workshop to be held at Plainview under the leadership of Mrs. O. M. McGinty, the president.

Enjoying the meeting were 30 members: Mesdames H. A. Brown, C. R. Burrow, Campbell, H. C. Campfield, Clark, S. H. Condron, Cornette, Donnell, Dowlen, Lon Fanning, Gooch, Lee Johnson, J. W. Kleinschmidt, Knighton, Loudder, McCarter, McCaslin, McElroy, C. A. Murray, Frank Morgan, R. A. Neblett, Reeves, Fred Standley, S. L. Ingham, J. A. Hill, A. W. Sternenberg, and Misses Fronabarger, Graham, and Walker. The next meeting will be March 11.

News In Canyon 25 Years Ago

(Taken from the files of The Canyon News of March 1, 1928)

Jim Webb has been re-elected superintendent of the Canyon schools. He has completed his first two years in this position.

W. A. Warren announced the formal opening of his newly enlarged store on the west side.

A long petition of protest against the erection of a county jail was given to the Commissioners Court in regular session. The court checked back the proposal of a new jail to the citizens as it would take a bond issue to erect the building.

Latest Rumors From Political Front of Nation

President Eisenhower and his top aides are beginning to figure that Mr. Truman left them a time bomb in his spending programs. So much money was appropriated and committed by the Truman Administration last year that it's proving difficult to get the Government's budget in hand.

The President is applying soothing syrup generously whenever he runs up against a major problem, with the thought that the time has come to quiet this country's nerves. The idea is to avoid anything sensational at least until the country is well calmed down after recent emotional sprees.

Eisenhower is beginning to encounter some of the difficulty President Truman experienced in recruiting personnel for top jobs. There is beginning to be a feeling that too many should be drawn from big business.

Nelson Rockefeller, Arthur Flemming, president of Ohio Wesleyan University, and Milton Eisenhower, the President's brother, are to be called upon more and more as a trouble-shooting team for the Eisenhower Administration. They tackle problems of Government as outsiders with an intimate knowledge of how the Government machine works.

John Foster Dulles, Secretary of State, finds if he is going to take a tougher line in dealing with Communists he may need to be backed up by more military power.

Secretary Dulles is ready to go along with the policy of divorcing the Department of State from some of its operating functions such as those of psychological warfare, Point Four assistance and administration of economic and military aid. An effort will be made to get diplomats back into the field of diplomacy.

Republicans, with their first access to the State Department in 20 years, are busy looking for more secret deals that they figure may be found somewhere in the files. There is a feeling that the full story of the late President Roosevelt's dealings with Joseph Stalin has yet to come to light.

Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., U. S. delegate to the United Nations, deals directly with President Eisenhower rather than through the State Department. Old hands in political affairs suggest that there are potentialities for real trouble in that situation.

U. S. strategists are convinced that Stalin's No. 1 goal for 1953 is to try to divide this country from its allies. That, not more war, is the objective.

Gen. Omar Bradley, Chairman of the U. S. Joint Chiefs of Staff, doesn't believe that World War III, Communist style, is under way. He doubts there can be war unless he can hear guns going off, even when great chunks of the world are being lost.

This country's top military planners were so busy during the last three years putting their time and attention on various new military gadgets that they did not think to provide enough ammunition for ordinary guns of the kind that are needed in war. Ammunition shortages continue to be acute.

Winston Churchill, Britain's Prime Minister, now is warning privately that Joseph Stalin may be on the warpath again, where a short time ago Mr. Churchill was saying that Stalin offered nothing much to worry about. The British leader is interested now in scaring President Eisenhower and Secretary Dulles out of any real ventures in the Far East.

Some British traders no longer are so sure that you get bargains in dealing with the Russians. In exchange for Malayan rubber, instead of expected industrial products, the traders have got their pay in Russian caviar.

The South Korean troops who are taking over front-line positions from Americans often are living on very short rations while U. S. is glutted with surplus food. The Koreans wish that a way could be worked out for this country to help feed the Army of a country that is short of food.

BOND SALES RISE

The Treasury has announced that sales of the United States savings bonds in January exceeded redemptions by $69,000,000, and were 14 per cent above sales in January, 1952. In January, 1952, redemption exceeded sales. In announcing the totals, Deputy Treasury Secretary W. Randolf Burgess, ascribed the gain, in part, to intensified promotion of the payroll savings plan.

WORLD BANK IN BLACK

The World Bank earned $7,639,743, on all operations, in the last half of 1952, an official announced recently. The bank made six loans in the period—to Australia, Columbia, Finland, Iceland, India and Peru.

SPEED-KILLER NO. 1

Out of 35,000 lives lost in traffic accidents in 1950, 26,700 were sacrificed on the altar of carelessness. Speed—excessive, killing speed—accounted for nearly half that number. Speed, claiming 13,300 dead and 475,000 injured victims in a single year, is the nation's Killer No. 1.

While all traffic deaths declined from 1946 through 1949, even then fatalities on the open road kept creeping up. In 1950 a deadly spurt of speed accidents claimed 3,200 more victims in rural areas than it had the year before. Last year speed deaths again mounted.

Why do drivers race so heedlessly to destruction on the highway? Hardly to save time. Scorching at 70 is an invitation to disaster. Over any distance, 50 m.p.h. takes only a few minutes longer and offers a better chance of a safe arrival.

When you start out with your family or friends, discount speed before you take off. Give yourself and others in your car an extra margin of safety by leaving earlier and holding your speed within bounds. It's your responsibility to them and to others on the road.

Remember—more than one out of every three fatal accidents is due to speed.

Stay in School!

"From his shoes to his eyebrows a man is worth only the daily wage paid for labor. In good times this is high; in poor times it is low. But from the eyebrows up there is no limit to the worth of a man." There is much truth in this old saying.

Education pays off in dollars and cents as well as in other ways. More education will help you to live a more complete life socially, culturally, economically, and politically, and will give you more personal satisfaction.

More than a million young people graduate from high school each year; over a million others drop out of high school, while more than a million others never start a high school course. The decision is yours. You should carefully weigh the arguments for quitting school with the advantages of staying in. You will find it difficult to find a person who thinks he was benefited by quitting school. Sometimes it is necessary to quit school, but in most cases it is not. Think it over before you take the final step.

The more schooling you have, the more money you are likely to make. When unemployment strikes, the men with more schooling hold their jobs longer, according to statistics.

The U. S. Navy knows the value of education, and offers special advantages to high school graduates who are otherwise qualified.

"You do not want to fly a kite in a jet-propelled age!" Remember, it's not what you make by quitting school and taking a job now that counts, but what you will be earning when you are 35.

Extended Horizons

A hobby is an occupation or interest to which you devote your spare time. There are three types of hobbyists.

First, for many reasons, a few persons consider collecting the most satisfying of hobbies. Another, is a kind of hobbyist who gets curious about something, studies up on the subject, and keeps going deeper and deeper until he and his hobby are inseparable. Then there are the doers. You see something and think, "It looks easy." Sure enough, you try it and you have started a hobby.

Why have hobbies? Some people think that a person with a hobby is a better-balanced person than one without. From these hobbies they develop resources of unsuspected talent, personal traits, and lots of fun.

If you have no hobby, here are some tips from a hobby fan:

Pick a hobby that is different or new to you. This will open up many new rooms to you.

Just pick one! You'll be surprised where it will take you. A taste for hobbies sometimes has to be cultivated.

Pick a hobby that brings new association.

Pick a hobby that doesn't have to last forever. Maybe you'll outgrow it, and you may then start something new.

Pick a hobby that may last on into the years of leisure.

Hobbies can make the change to a new leisure, and make it that rich and satisfying experience we all hope for.

PEP RALLY BOOSTS EAGLETTES

Confused to say the least were students of CHS in pep assembly Friday as they yelled Eagles and Eaglettes, not sure for whom they were to yell.

Cheerleaders led yells for the boys' team last week so as a return courtesy on the boys' part, Ted Lowe, Don McDonald, Richard Busteed, and Jimmy Simon, led yells for the girl's team before Arlen Ruthart, SFC vice-president, dismissed the assembly.

The speeches will be judged by five judges, which are connected in no way with FTA. The one selected will be presented at the banquet Saturday evening.

All members will attend different workshops. The discuussions of standards of FTA, teaching in the future, activities in clubs, rewards from FTA, and service—our watchword, will be carried on in the workshops.

Members who are going to make the trip to this meeting are Dorothy Cleavinger, Nancy Bolton, La Nelle Gum, Bob Hood, Bob Huddleston, Wanette Green, and Dan Gaylor. Mrs. Tom Beard, FTA sponsor, and Mrs. L. E. Gum will furnish the transportation and accompany the group.

In the last conference game before the finals, the Canyon Eaglettes clobbered the Floydada Whirlwinds 53-27 in the Canyon gym Thursday. The Eaglettes were on the ball from the beginning of the game until the end. Not once did the Whirlwinds threaten the Eaglettes' lead.

Martha McBroom, backed by the rest of the Eaglettes, scored 27 points; Peggy Bonds 12, Joann Mickey 9, and Rhea June Ford 4. Other players who helped make this win possible were Bettie Glanton, Dorothy Cleavinger, Betty Burrus, Marieta Sanders, Dovie Keene, Ann Moore, Alby Ann Kuehler, and Peggy Sheets.

LaRue Davis was on the sick list. Although the three main guards fouled off, their substitutes were able to hold their own.

Australian Birds Perform at CHS

Have you ever seen a bird that could count, add, subtract, divide, and even multiply? A pet parade featured such a trained bird, an Australian cockatoo, in the CHS assembly last Monday.

Featuring a beautiful array of trained birds from Australia and India, Valentine's Pet Parade was a novelty program sponsored by the Southern School Assembly.

The Australian white-crested cockatoos played musical instruments, rang bells and did arithmetic. The cockatoos were pure white, with a beautiful sulphur-colored crest about five inches high. These birds frequently live to be 100 years old and do not age like human beings.

Jimmie, the star cockatoo of the act, was billed as "the bird with the human mind," and lived up to his publicity. He could count, add, subtract, divide, multiply, and give the days of the week. He gave the correct answers by ringing a large bell with his foot.

Grandpa Joe, the veteran of the troup, was over 90 years old and is still both peppy and clever in his stunts and tricks.

The Sacred Doves of India that performed were versatile, each doing a number of different tricks.

The cockatoos answered play telephones, did acrobatic tricks, and played the musical chimes.

Jr. Who's Who Is Named by Faculty

Junior Who's Who for 1953 were selected by the faculty Friday, February 20, in a called meeting. Named for this honor were Sue Keeling, Dorothy Neblett, Wanette Green, Ted Briggs, Charles Miller, and Joe Watson.

Only the members of the junior class are eligible for this honor and are chosen according to citizenship, scholarship, loyalty to the school, achievement, cooperation with school personnel, and dependability. All Junior Who's Who are members of the National Honor Society.

Sue Keeling, secretary of the junior class, has served actively in the FHA, FTA, and CCYC during her high school years. Dorothy Neblett serves actively in the FHA, Science Club, and CCYC. She filled the position of Junior Red Cross representative, sophomore class favorite, and played the part of Nadine in the junior play in 1952.

Wanette Green was secretary of the freshman class and freshman candidate for Hallowe'en Queen in 1951. She is a member of the junior play cast, FHA, CCYC, and FTA reporter this year.

Ted Briggs, newly elected district FTA vice-president, has served on the tennis team and has been a member of the Science Club for two years.

Charles Miller has been a member of the Eagles' A and B basketball squads for two years and in the band from '48 to '53. He was selected class favorite and Red Cross representative, and was on the tennis team last year. This year he obtained his radio amateur license and also was stage manager of the junior play.

Joe Watson also has his radio amateur license and served as a stage manager during the junior play. He serves actively in the science club.

Seniors Receive Band Jackets

Senior jacket awards for the CHS band were presented Thursday in the band hall by the junior band representative, Rhea June Cabe.

Len McKay, Bob Huddleston, Buddy Thompson, Frances Cunningham, Annelle Pond, and Grace Sheets were the seniors who received the award jackets. Nine other members of the band ordered jackets; these jackets were paid for by the individual student.

Bob Huddleston, band president, presented letters to the remaining members of the band who did not receive jackets.

The jackets are reversible wool and satin. The wool side is all gray with purple trimming and a purple letter "C" with the word "BAND" on it. The satin side has a white front and back with purple sleeves and collar.

Soviet Union said to be heavily fortifying Baltic Sea.

CHS Band News

Going to Amarillo during school hours may be illegal in our school, but when the drummers in the band attended an annual percussion clinic last Wednesday it was legal because of its value to the rhythmetts.

Kathy Truax and Georgia Nelson represented the band at this clinic where they learned better drum techniques and enjoyed the fellowship with drummers from other Panhandle towns.

Music demonstrations were highlights in the band the week of February 23, as both reed and brass players performed for grade school students. The purpose was to show the range and tone quality of each instrument.

Reed players who participated were Frances Cunningham, bass clarinet, Dorothy Cleavinger, flute, Barbara Glanton, bassoon, Joann Mickey, clarinet, Joe Dickerson, oboe, and Bob Cole, saxophone.

David Miller, Bob Huddleston, Jerry Martin, and Norris Samuelson, brass players, demonstrated the French horn, trombone, cornet, and bass, respectively.

With only a month left for practice before the next concert, the band met for an extra night session Monday in the band house.

Sight reading of music, from which the music will be selected for the program, was played.

Public Schools Form Nation's Foundation

"I have sworn upon the altar of God eternal hostility against every form of tyranny over the mind of man."

The free public schools of America have in a sense adopted this as the basis on which they stand.

Just as our forefathers fought to attain the freedoms of our nation so are we, the people, fighting to maintain those same rights today through the free public schools.

The public school is the one symbol of unity in America, for all children, regardless of wealth, birth, or social background possess the right to attend our schools.

The teachers in our schools today are not instructed to teach anything but the truth. On the other hand, the students are taught to think for themselves and not as some political leaders might desire.

The school works extensively with the home in developing the sound character of the students of today. Character in the builders of tomorrow's world insures the maintenance of our almost unlimited freedoms.

Yes, tomorrow's leaders are being educated in today's schools, and the manner in which they are taught will be the determining factor in our hope for international peace—America's dream for the future.

FHA Plans Trip To Area Meeting

An annual trip to Lubbock for an area meeting will be made by members of the Canyon FHA chapter on Saturday, March 7. The meeting will be an all day affair, and the girls will go and return by buses of the public school system.

The Canyon chapter is supporting candidate June Davis for an area office, and candidate Billie Graham for a state office. These girls will wear tags with their pictures and various qualifications when they meet at the House of Delegates at Lubbock.

Peggy Bonds, secretary of the Canyon chapter, states, "Our chapter feels our candidates have excellent qualifications to serve the area and state well."

Calvary Baptists Hold Revival

The Calvary Baptist Church of Canyon, Fourth Avenue and Sixth Street, will hold a series of revival services, March 8th through 15th, according to pastor Rev. J. E. Burkham.

Morning services will begin at 10:00 each week-day except Saturday. Week-day evening services will begin at 7:30. Sunday services begin at 9:45 a. m. and 6:45 p. m.

Men's night will be Monday night with "Where is Zebedee" announced as evangelist Henry Eason's sermon title. Wednesday night will be special ladies' night with "The Truth About Ruth" as a sermon topic. Friday night will climax with a youth rally. The topic will be "God's Generation."

A series of sermons on the Person and Work of the Holy Spirit will be preached during the 10 o'clock week-day morning services.

15 Seniors Cast In Mystery Play

Can 13-year-olds fall in love? Can dead people walk? Do dead people eat scrambled eggs for breakfast?

For the answer to these questions you must see the senior play for 1953, "Finders Creepers," a mystery-comedy in three acts, to be presented March 26 and 27 in the high school auditorium.

Leading the cast are Tommy Myers and Buddy Thompson who play the parts of Wilbur and Hercules, two very confused and mischievous boys. Aunt Mary, a serious but understanding woman, is portrayed by Frances Cunningham, and her husband, Mr. Nelson, is the undertaker, Bob Huddleston.

The youngest of the Nelsons is Frankie, a girl of 11 who is always reading strange material, played by Peggy Bonds. Sarah Colwell is the maid, Daphne, who never smiles. Mr. Quigley, the "dead" man, is portrayed by Leroy Dickerson. He falls in love with Granny, played by Sue Ann Kinney.

Celeste, the young maiden who falls in love with Wilbur, is portrayed by Elvira Boyd. Nina, Mr. Quigley's granddaughter, is played by Laura Smith.

Nancy Bolton, Mr. Quigley's sister, Madeline, is a most suspicious character. She is wooed by Mr. Harry Schuster, Mr. Quigley's lawyer. He is played by James Joyner. The family doctor, Dr. Brown, is depicted by Dan Gaylor.

Claude, Mr. Nelson's caretaker, is Don McDonald. Another caretaker is Henry, played by Lyndell Dawson.

Stage managers and other committees have not yet been announced. Tickets will be on sale about the middle of this month.

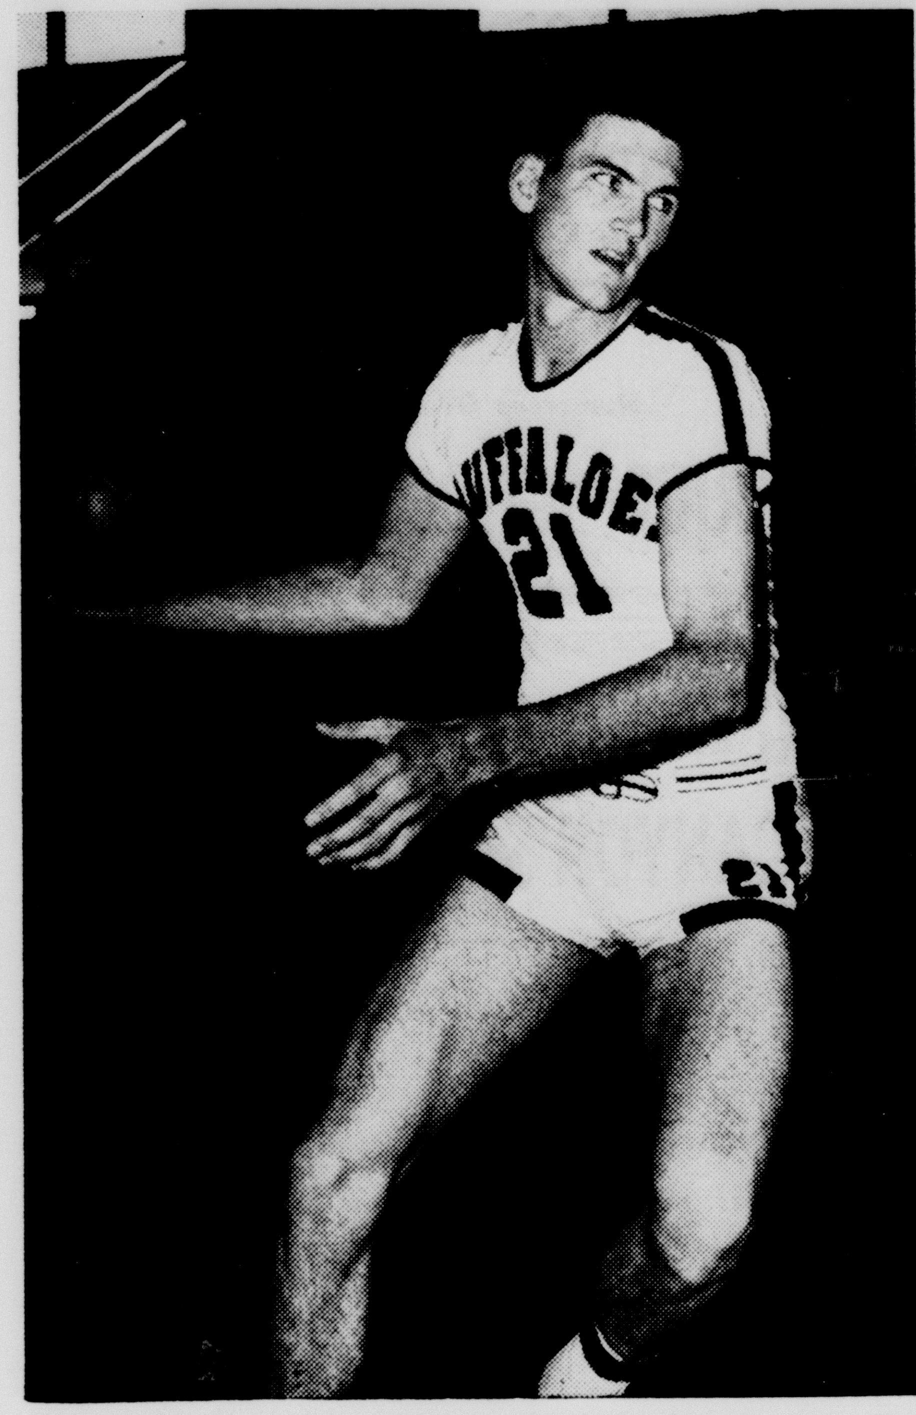
Troy Burrus Sets New High Scoring Record



Troy "The Boy" Burrus is just about the hottest cager in Texas, bar none. He has scored 448 points this season, and he hit the 1032nd of his college career.

Texas is a big state full of big people full of big talk about big things, and going through the process of establishing the biggest or best within the state boundaries is like being dragged through a patch of cactus by a runaway horse. In other words, it's mighty rough sledding!

However, cage fans in the northern Tri-State region centered by the Panhandle, point to Troy Burrus, 6'7 junior pivotman for West Texas State's Buffaloes, as the greatest basketball player in the Lone Star State.

The people in this red-hot cage area are not talking through their ten-gallon hats whenever they speak of Troy. They know basketball and basketball players.

West Texas State has been a perennial producer of strong cage teams and is now in the process of building back its national prominence which reached a peak in 1941-42. It was in that year that the Buffs were the nation's number two team with a 28-3 record and were winners of the Oklahoma City tournament, the Border Conference and participated in the National Invitational in New York.

That squad was led by NAIB All-American Price Brookfield, great Buff forward who was last year voted into the Helms' Hall of Fame.

Up to this year, Brookfield was considered the greatest cager ever to play at West Texas State. However, Burrus, former Canyon High all-stater, has taken over that position and has yet another year in which to roam the hardwoods.

If the Herd were playing a longer schedule, Burrus would break the all-time season mark of 520 points set by Brookfield in his 31-game season in 1941-42. However, the Herd will end their play at 21 tilts—a full ten games shorter than Brookfield's play.

Burrus is currently leading the scoring race in the tough Border Conference with a per game output of 22.2 points. He is rated 23rd among scorers in the nation and 10th among the nation's free tossers.

While in New York this season where the Buffs met Seton Hall in Madison Square Garden, Burrus made an excellent impression both on offense and defense. Against St. Joseph in Philadelphia, Burrus got 16 points while holding the Hawks' fine Mike Doogan to 11.

High game for Burrus this season was 34 points collected against New Mexico A&M, although he has looped in 33 twice and hit 27, 28 and 29 on several occasions. Main weapon used by Burrus is a devastating step-away hook shot to either side or the front. He is also a fine set shot artist with the corners being his favorite locations.

Upstate fans have gone crazy over the antics of West Texas State's "Mr. Basketball," and he has been primarily the reason for the establishing of an all-time attendance record at the school. During the past two seasons, a total of just over 51,000 fans have swarmed into the Herd's new fieldhouse in Canyon to watch action.

Prior to the 25,500 record season, the tops in attendance for a campaign was 9,000.

Troy is fine in every way," Head Coach Gus Miller said of his top point-getter. "He is definitely All-American in my books and I think the opposition we have met this year will agree to that, also."

"Troy is All-American material if I ever saw it," said Robert 'Duck' Dowell, Pepperdine Wave coach who, himself, is a former All-American choice.

Although Troy and Company didn't get into the national playoffs this year, the squad loses only one player and boosters of the Buffs are already pointing to next year as the time the Herd will once again take its rightful place among the nation's cage powers.

whether you're young...
or old...
wear glasses...
or have 20-20 vision...

you'll see the difference in ➡ Hoffman EASY-VISION* television

And—the difference is the exclusive Easy-Vision Lens—the only feature in television designed to protect your eyes from strain!

Junior can tell the difference in a Hoffman. Because he can sit with nose practically pressed against the screen and watch a Hoffman with complete ease. Grandpaw, on the other hand, can sit clear across the room from his Hoffman and see every detail with perfect clarity. People with glasses and those with perfect vision can sit wherever they want, too...and watch a Hoffman as long as they want without eyestrain...

AND HERE'S WHY:
1. Hoffman Easy-Vision Television is completely free from the bluish color that you see on all TV screens.
2. This bluish light comes from the picture tube itself. It is an unnatural light—a light your eyes are not used to. Consequently, you find yourself squinting and straining to see the picture on ordinary TV.
3. Not so with Hoffman! The exclusive Hoffman Easy-Vision Lens changes this hard-to-see bluish light into soft, warm tones of natural daylight. You sit back with complete ease, and watch the Hoffman picture naturally from any distance or for as long as you want.
4. The Hoffman Easy-Vision Lens heightens the contrast—gives whiter whites; blacker blacks. You see all the details without squinting and straining!

BEFORE YOU BUY YOUR TV...BE SURE TO SEE HOFFMAN...LOOK FOR THE FAMOUS EASY-VISION GOLDEN LENS!

H. V. Lee Wins Company Trip

Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Lee of Amarillo left Friday via Trans World Airline, for New York City. Mr. Lee won an all expense paid trip to New York City from his firm, The National Cash Register Company of Dayton, Ohio, and will be presented with a 17 jewel Gilmore Hamilton wrist watch and band.

Mr. Lee has traveled for the N.C.R. Branch office in Amarillo for more than 25 years, and was presented with a 25 year pen in 1951.

There are only six divisions of N.C.R. in the United States, and Mr. Lee won the trip for having sold the greatest per cent of quota in the Southern Division. Canyon is now part of Mr. Lee's territory.

Mr. Lee is stopping at the Waldorf Astoria Hotel in N.Y.C., and Mrs. Lee is visiting his mother, Mrs. Effie Lee, who is ill, in Montpelier, Indiana.

Mrs. Lee is a daughter of Mrs. I. W. Scott, and sister of Mrs. D. R. Weaver of Canyon.

LESSON IN BASIC ENGLISH

A Navy lieutenant at a South Sea island station, undertook to give an old native a lesson in basic English. He pointed at a Marine and said "man."

The native dutifully repeated, "Man."

That gave the volunteer teacher a thrill. He went on and pointed to a palm tree. "Tree," he announced. The native echoed, "tree." That certainly was progress.

Just then a plane roared overhead. The lieutenant thought he'd give the native the first chance this time. "What, he asked, pointing upward.

"I'm not sure," said the native, as he stood up and squinted at the plane overhead. "It looks like a PB2Y, but it might be a B-24."

Bill Cornette Is An Honorary Page

An honor not to be sneezed at was accorded young Bill Cornette recently.

Bill, son of Dr. and Mrs. James P. Cornette, was made an honorary page for a day by the Missouri General Assembly (legislature), when the Cornettes visited the assembly chambers in Jefferson City.

While enroute to Chicago to attend meetings of the American Association of Colleges for Teacher Education, the Cornettes stopped off at the Missouri capital on business. They visited with some legislators while the assembly was in session, and Bill received the honorary title, without pay, of course.

A certificate, with appropriate seal, was given him in recognition of his appointment by the 67th General Assembly, and was signed by the speaker of the house and the assembly's chief clerk.

Rheumatic Fever Causes Death of Many Youths

Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, commenting on the seriousness of rheumatic fever, today declared that this disease is recognized as one of the greatest killers among young people. Between the ages of 10 and 15, rheumatic fever causes more deaths than any other disease, the State Health Officer said, and in persons between the ages of 15 and 24, it is outranked only by tuberculosis.

Dr. Cox stressed the fact that deaths in childhood from rheumatic fever have not decreased in a satisfactory manner during the past decade, and warned the parents of children to pay particular attention to the care and treatment of such predisposing diseases as tonsilitis and other upper respiratory infections.

"The diagnosis in this disease is not always easy," Dr. Cox stated. "Any child with suspicious symptoms should be under the prolonged supervision of a physician since along with a general involvement of the body, the heart is practically always involved. The symptoms consist only of pallor, loss of weight, easy fatigue, unusual sweating, loss of appetite, and sometime fleeting muscular pain, and a little joint stiffness and a rapid beating of the heart. The more severe cases may show repeated nose bleeds, extreme nervousness, stiffness and pain in the joints, swelling of the joints, fever and pain over the heart."

According to Dr. Cox the majority of children who experience rheumatic fever suffer more than one attack and each may last months or even at times one to three years. The final result depends on the amount of heart damage incurred. Closely supervised bed rest throughout the entire period of infection is essential in order to minimize this danger.

WORM TURNS

Hamilton, Canada. — The lowly earthworm is beginning to turn — into big business.

Nick Christopher, graduate of McMaster University, has hired two students to care for his current batch of six million wrigglers. And the McMaster students, basketball players Ernie Darragh and Lorne Wrigglesworth, are making enough money at it to help pay their way through college. Nick will sell the worms to fishermen in a patented earthworm container. An insurance salesman, he started in the worm business in a small way with only about 10,000 wrigglers. He recently purchased a greenhouse, installed an oil furnace and a sprinkling system to keep his products fat and healthy.
